

Solution Provider

Is always thinking about "Is the Solution aligned with the Client's Business Mission, Vision and Goals?"

Solution Provider provides practical solutions, to help businesses overcome their growth challenges (similar to Matican Group's Mission Statement).

As the brain of the company, ideations and decisions related to solutions are made by Solution Provider, therefore it is going to be very important for Solution Providers to keep themselves updated with the latest technologies and business insights.

At the end of the day, It is the Solution Provider which is responsible of a Solution's quality & delivery. Solution Provider will be mostly communicating with Client & Project Manager.

Project Manager is Solution Provider's gate to the Technical Team. Here are important skills that a Solution Provider must have:

Business acumen: You should have a solid understanding of business processes, including finance, marketing, sales, and operations. You should also understand the industry trends and have knowledge of your clients' industries.

Technical skills: You should have a good understanding of technology, including software development, databases, and infrastructure. You should also be able to stay updated on the latest technologies and understand how they can be used to solve business challenges.

Communication skills: You should be an excellent communicator and have the ability to convey complex technical information to non-technical stakeholders. You should also have good listening skills to understand clients' needs and concerns.

Analytical skills: You should be able to analyze complex data and information to identify business problems and come up with effective solutions.

Creativity: You should be able to think outside the box and come up with innovative solutions to solve business problems.

Leadership skills: You should have the ability to lead and motivate a team to work towards common goals.

Project management skills: You should have a good understanding of project management principles, including Agile methodologies, to ensure that projects are completed on time and within budget.

Problem-solving skills: You should be able to identify and solve problems effectively and efficiently.

Time management skills: You should be able to manage your time effectively and prioritize tasks based on their importance and urgency.

Emotional intelligence: You should have the ability to understand and manage your emotions and those of others to build strong relationships with clients and team members.

It is highly recommended that Solution Provider does NOT make direct contact with Technical Team.

Due to nature of Solution Provider career, close collaboration with Client is needed to make sure the business matters are openly discussed.

Solution Provider is the one who gets in touch with Client more than other roles in the Company.

Solution Provider must keep Clients' personal or business communication/conversation/challenges/problems/issues highly confidential.

Solution Provider make sure that Client is always respected by him/her and other team members.

Making fun of or Disrespecting any Client related topics or Client itself are highly prohibited.

A business's output is either a Product or a Service which is the result of People, Processes & Technology.

The more balanced this triangle, the more efficient the business. Solution Provider in the beginning should look at the People & Processes then come up with a solution (Technology) that balances the People & Processes.
